OVERVIEW

AlfaToken is an automated, cryptographically secured, and cross-chain marketplace that will allow to issue, borrow, lend, margin trade, and earn interest on the cryptocurrency.

PROBLEM

There are the following problems in the cryptofinances:

- Issuing tokens and create smart contracts require a blockchain developer. They are difficult to find and expensive.
- Most businesses lack financing for their ICO campaigns. It is difficult to get listed on crypto exchanges due to high fees.
- Crypto traders have very few options to do margin trading. For a lot of traders this is not even available at all.
- Mortgages on the blockchain can simplify the process of real estate transactions, and make it more accessable.
- There are very few options to deposit cryptosavings, especially when satisfying a low risk appetite.
